Process of communication

Sender:-

During our industry visit, the sender was the company representative who explained the working process.

Message:-

The message included details about production, management, and employee roles.

Encoding:-

The channel of communication was mainly presentations, demonstrations, and discussions.

Medium:-

We, the students, acted as the receivers by carefully listening and observing.

Feedback:-

Our feedback was given through questions and sharing our learning with the guide.

Noise:-

Some noise like background sounds and distractions made it a little difficult to focus at times.
